INDEX TO VOLUME CLXVII.

AUTHORS.

Ash, J. Earle. A study of the blood in a case of severe hemorrhage, 808.

Austin, A. E. The importance of differentiating catarrhs of the large and small intestine, 188.

Ayer, James B., and Palfrey, Francis W. A case of chronic infective endocarditis with ulceration of chordae tendineae, 55.

Bailey, Henry T. Under ether, 762.

Balboni, Gerardo M. The treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis by artificial pneumothorax according to the method of Forlanini, 755, 804, 844, 882, 928.

Barnes, Harry Lee, Brown, Lawrason, and Cullen, Victor F. Routine medical work in a sanatorium, 613.

Bartlett, P. C., and Murphy, C. V. The use of lactic acid, soured milk and lactic acid bacilli in pulmonary tuberculosis, 311.

Barton, Wilfred M. Another conception of anaphylaxis, 51.

Berry, John C. Medicine and humanity: the physician as a promoter of civilization, 207.

Boos, William F. Alcohol as a drug, 81. The salvarsan-calomel treatment of syphilis, 389.

Bottomley, John T. The surgical treatment of injuries of the spinal column affecting the cord, 691.

Bowditch, Vincent Y. Memorabilia: Extracts from medical notes made by the late Henry Ingersoll Bowditch, M.D., of Boston, 603.

Bowen, John T. Progress in dermatology, 325.

Brown, Lawrason, Barnes, Harry Lee, and Cullen, Victor F. Routine medical work in a sanatorium, 613.

Brown, Percy. Alimentary aberrations; the Roentgen rays as a factor in their diagnosis, 827, 875.

Bucholz, Herman, Osgood, Robert B., Soutter, Robert, and Danforth, Murray S. Report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 195.

Bullard, William N. The insanity of the feeble-minded, 873.

Burrage, W. L., and Rushmore, S. Progress in gynecology, 812.

Cabot, Arthur T. Two cases of injury of the vena cava during the removal of pyelonephrotic kidneys, 578.

Canavan, Myrtelle M., and Southard, E. E. Second note on bacterial invasion of the blood and the cerebrospinal fluid by way of lymph nodes, 109.

Cannon, W. B. Some unsolved problems of gastroenterology, 181.

Chadwick, Henry D., and Wagner, Harry S. The significance of symptoms in pulmonary tuberculosis, 397.

Channing, Walter. The argument for the large state insane hospital, 156.

Chute, Arthur L. Two cases of diverticulum of the bladder treated by operation, 316. Some observations on cases of prostatic obstruction presenting overdistended bladders, 607.

Chute, A. L., and Crosbie A. H. Mucous cancer of the bladder, 583.

Clap, E. W. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 764.

Clark, L. Pierce. Remarks upon some recent studies in the pathogenesis of epilepsy, 78.

Cobb, Farrar. Cancer of the uterus. The operable cases. The operation of choice. A study of 309 cases at the Massachusetts General Hospital from 1900 to 1910, 37.

Connolly, John M. Heredity. With special references to the law of Gregor Johann Mendel, O.S.A., 791, 836.

Coolidge, A., and Greene D. C. Recent progress in laryngology, 219.

Cotton, F. J. Acapnia: Its surgical importance, 432. Traumatic rupture of the diaphragm with other injuries: Operation: Recovery, 193.

Crosbie, A. H., and Chute, A. L. Mucous cancer of the bladder, 583.

Cullen, Victor F., Brown, Lawrason, and Barnes, Harry Lee. Routine medical work in a sanatorium, 613.

Cumston, Charles Greene. A contribution to the study of coccyodynia, 461.

Danforth, Murray S., Osgood, Robert B., Soutter, Robert, and Bucholz, Hermann. Report of progress in othopedic surgery, 195.

Day, Hilbert F. Inversion of the uterus, 361.

Dean, C. H. Three cases of pellagra, 91.

Dearborn, George V. N. A laboratory-course in physiology based on daphnia and other animalcules, 153.

DeNormandie, R. L. Treatment of acute inversion of the uterus, 255.

Downing, Andrew F. Syphilis: The story of its treatment, old and new, 715.

Eastman, Alexander C. Our present knowledge of the physiology and chemistry of gastric digestion as applied to vomiting in infancy, 215.

Edsall, David L. The clinical study of respiration, 639.

Edson, Carroll E. On some recurrent febrile attacks in chronic pulmonary tuberculosis, 151.

Fernald, Guy G. The Massachusetts reformatory method of differentiating defective delinquents, 120.

Fitz, R. H., Mixter, S. J., and Walton, George Lincoln. Memorials to Maurice Howe Richardson, 903.

Foster, Charles C. The doctor who volunteers for military service in time of war, 246.

Friedenwald, Julius. The gastro-intestinal disturbances observed in pernicious anemia, 160.

Goodall, Harry W. An unusual anomaly of the hands, 699. Chronic invagination of the ileum, secondary to a lipoma of the intestinal wall, 548.

Graves, W. P. Hopeful aspects of cancer of the uterus, 48.

Greene, D. C. and Coolidge A. Recent progress in laryngology, 219.

Hammond, Philip. The importance of the early recognition of suppurative otitis media, 725.

Harrington, Arthur H. Pellagra in Rhode Island, 731.

Hawes, John B., 2d. Survey of the tuberculosis situation in Massachusetts, 728.

Heffenger, A. C. Subphrenic abscess, 427.

Homans, John. The surgical treatment of head injuries affecting the brain 684.

Hubbard, J. C. Remote metastases following cancer of the breast, 1.

Huntington, James Lincoln. The regulation of midwifery, 84. Midwives in Massachusetts, 542.

Jackson, James Marsh. Medical aspect of intestinal adhesion and ptosis, 353.

Jackson, Ralph W. Intra-rectal rupture of suppurating sinus from hip joint disease, 242.

Karsner, Howard T. The function of the experimental method in the course in pathology, 531.

Keyes, Frederick A. Institutional dentistry. Methods. Results, 118.

Kickham, Charles J. Theories as to the causation of monsters, 5.

Kinnicutt, Roger, and Mixter W. J. Actinomycosis treated with vaccines, 90; Kinnicutt, Roger and Smith, William H. A case of fatal endocarditis due to a capsulated Gram-staining diplococcus, occurring in chains, 810.

Kittredge, F. E. Dangers incurred as a result of the non-recognition of acute aural infections with statistical data 358.

Knapp, Philip Coombs. Recent progress in neurology, 614.

Lee, Roger I. A case of pellagra that had not been outside of New England for eighteen years, 435.

L'Esperance, O. R. T. The excretion of formaldehyde by the kidneys of patients taking urotropin: A study of Burnham's test, 577.

Lothrop, Howard A. Migration of foreign bodies in tissues, 933.

Lucas, William Palmer. Contributions to the neurology of the child. I. Note on the mortality and the proportion of backward children in cases of congenital syphilis followed subsequent to hospital treatment, 278.

Lund, F. B. Advantages of abdominal hysterectomy, 47; tuberculosis of the mesenteric glands simulating appendicitis, 918.

Lusk, William T. Physiology at the Harvard Medical School, 1871, 931.

Lyon, James A. Specific treatment against pulmonary tuberculosis and its complications. One hundred tubercular patients treated with bacterins and tuberculin, 149.

Marshall, H. W. An adjustable knee support, 659. Scattering notes on arthritic disease, 574.

Mayo, William J. Contributions of the nineteenth century to a living pathology, 751.

McGurn, William J. A new device for the safe and certain administration of salvarsan, 696.

Mellhenny, Paul. Hyperemic treatment of acute anterior poliomyelitis. A preliminary report, 87.

McLaughlin, Allen J. The prevention of water-borne disease in lake and river traffic, 831.

Means, Frank Sherman. The general practitioner: An idealization, 73.

Mears, J. Ewing. A further study of the problem of race betterment, 455.

Medalia, Leon S. Chronic alveolar osteomyelitis (pyorrhea alveolaris), its causes and treatment with vaccines, 868, 922.

Metcalf, Carleton R. Acquired hallux valgus: Late results from operative and non-operative treatment, 271.

Mills, Lloyd H. Mexican scorpions and the treatment of scorpion sting, 183.

Mixter, W. J., and Kinnicutt, Roger. Actinomycosis treated with vaccines, 90; Mixter, S. J., Fitz, R. H., and Walton, George Lincoln, memorials to Maurice Howe Richardson, M.D., 903.

Morse, George W. Three unusual cases of appendicitis, 16.

Murphy, C. V. and Bartlett, P. C. The use of lactic acid, soured milk, and lactic acid bacilli in pulmonary tuberculosis, 311.

Neff, Irwin H. The problem of drunkenness, 911.

Newell, Franklin S. Indications for the major obstetrical operations, 883.

O'Connor, Joseph W. Pyelonephritis of pregnancy and the puerperium, 652.

Oliver, E. Lawrence. From the skin department of the Massachusetts General Hospital. Treatment by salvarsan during the past year, 811.

O'Neil, R. F. Results of the complement fixation test for gonorrhea at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 464.

Osgood, Robert B., Soutter, Robert, Buchloz, Hermann, and Danforth, Murray S. Report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 195.

Otis, Edward O. Artificial pneumothorax in advanced unilateral cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, 612. Institutions for the prevention and cure of tuber-

INDEX TO VOLUME CLXVII.

AUTHORS.

Ash, J. Earle. A study of the blood in a case of severe hemorrhage, 808.

Austin, A. E. The importance of differentiating catarrhs of the large and small intestine, 188.

Ayer, James B., and Palfrey, Francis W. A case of chronic infective endocarditis with ulceration of chordae tendineae, 55.

Bailey, Henry T. Under ether, 762.

Balboni, Gerardo M. The treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis by artificial pneumothorax according to the method of Forlanini, 755, 804, 844, 882, 928.

Barnes, Harry Lee, Brown, Lawrason, and Cullen, Victor F. Routine medical work in a sanatorium, 613.

Bartlett, P. C., and Murphy, C. V. The use of lactic acid, soured milk and lactic acid bacilli in pulmonary tuberculosis, 311.

Barton, Wilfred M. Another conception of anaphylaxis, 51.

Berry, John C. Medicine and humanity: the physician as a promoter of civilization, 207.

Boos, William F. Alcohol as a drug, 81. The salvarsan-calomel treatment of syphilis, 389.

Bottomley, John T. The surgical treatment of injuries of the spinal column affecting the cord, 691.

Bowditch, Vincent Y. Memorabilia: Extracts from medical notes made by the late Henry Ingersoll Bowditch, M.D., of Boston, 603.

Bowen, John T. Progress in dermatology, 325.

Brown, Lawrason, Barnes, Harry Lee, and Cullen, Victor F. Routine medical work in a sanatorium, 613.

Brown, Percy. Alimentary aberrations; the Roentgen rays as a factor in their diagnosis, 827, 875.

Bucholz, Herman, Osgood, Robert B., Soutter, Robert, and Danforth, Murray S. Report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 195.

Bullard, William N. The insanity of the feeble-minded, 873.

Burrage, W. L., and Rushmore, S. Progress in gynecology, 812.

Cabot, Arthur T. Two cases of injury of the vena cava during the removal of pyelonephrotic kidneys, 578.

Canavan, Myrtelle M., and Southard, E. E. Second note on bacterial invasion of the blood and the cerebrospinal fluid by way of lymph nodes, 109.

Cannon, W. B. Some unsolved problems of gastroenterology, 181.

Chadwick, Henry D., and Wagner, Harry S. The significance of symptoms in pulmonary tuberculosis, 397.

Channing, Walter. The argument for the large state insane hospital, 156.

Chute, Arthur L. Two cases of diverticulum of the bladder treated by operation, 316. Some observations on cases of prostatic obstruction presenting overdistended bladders, 607.

Chute, A. L., and Crosbie A. H. Mucous cancer of the bladder, 583.

Clap, E. W. Recent progress in ophthalmology, 764.

Clark, L. Pierce. Remarks upon some recent studies in the pathogenesis of epilepsy, 78.

Cobb, Farrar. Cancer of the uterus. The operable cases. The operation of choice. A study of 309 cases at the Massachusetts General Hospital from 1900 to 1910, 37.

Connolly, John M. Heredity. With special references to the law of Gregor Johann Mendel, O.S.A., 791, 836.

Coolidge, A., and Greene D. C. Recent progress in laryngology, 219.

Cotton, F. J. Acapnia: Its surgical importance, 432. Traumatic rupture of the diaphragm with other injuries: Operation: Recovery, 193.

Crosbie, A. H., and Chute, A. L. Mucous cancer of the bladder, 583.

Cullen, Victor F., Brown, Lawrason, and Barnes, Harry Lee. Routine medical work in a sanatorium, 613.

Cumston, Charles Greene. A contribution to the study of coccyodynia, 461.

Danforth, Murray S., Osgood, Robert B., Soutter, Robert, and Bucholz, Hermann. Report of progress in othopedic surgery, 195.

Day, Hilbert F. Inversion of the uterus, 361.

Dean, C. H. Three cases of pellagra, 91.

Dearborn, George V. N. A laboratory-course in physiology based on daphnia and other animalcules, 153.

DeNormandie, R. L. Treatment of acute inversion of the uterus, 255.

Downing, Andrew F. Syphilis: The story of its treatment, old and new, 715.

Eastman, Alexander C. Our present knowledge of the physiology and chemistry of gastric digestion as applied to vomiting in infancy, 215.

Edsall, David L. The clinical study of respiration, 639.

Edson, Carroll E. On some recurrent febrile attacks in chronic pulmonary tuberculosis, 151.

Fernald, Guy G. The Massachusetts reformatory method of differentiating defective delinquents, 120.

Fitz, R. H., Mixter, S. J., and Walton, George Lincoln. Memorials to Maurice Howe Richardson, 903.

Foster, Charles C. The doctor who volunteers for military service in time of war, 246.

Friedenwald, Julius. The gastro-intestinal disturbances observed in pernicious anemia, 160.

Goodall, Harry W. An unusual anomaly of the hands, 699. Chronic invagination of the ileum, secondary to a lipoma of the intestinal wall, 548.

Graves, W. P. Hopeful aspects of cancer of the uterus, 48.

Greene, D. C. and Coolidge A. Recent progress in laryngology, 219.

Hammond, Philip. The importance of the early recognition of suppurative otitis media, 725.

Harrington, Arthur H. Pellagra in Rhode Island, 731.

Hawes, John B., 2d. Survey of the tuberculosis situation in Massachusetts, 728.

Heffenger, A. C. Subphrenic abscess, 427.

Homans, John. The surgical treatment of head injuries affecting the brain 684.

Hubbard, J. C. Remote metastases following cancer of the breast, 1.

Huntington, James Lincoln. The regulation of midwifery, 84. Midwives in Massachusetts, 542.

Jackson, James Marsh. Medical aspect of intestinal adhesion and ptosis, 353.

Jackson, Ralph W. Intra-rectal rupture of suppurating sinus from hip joint disease, 242.

Karsner, Howard T. The function of the experimental method in the course in pathology, 531.

Keyes, Frederick A. Institutional dentistry. Methods. Results, 118.

Kickham, Charles J. Theories as to the causation of monsters, 5.

Kinnicutt, Roger, and Mixter W. J. Actinomycosis treated with vaccines, 90; Kinnicutt, Roger and Smith, William H. A case of fatal endocarditis due to a capsulated Gram-staining diplococcus, occurring in chains, 810.

Kittredge, F. E. Dangers incurred as a result of the non-recognition of acute aural infections with statistical data 358.

Knapp, Philip Coombs. Recent progress in neurology, 614.

Lee, Roger I. A case of pellagra that had not been outside of New England for eighteen years, 435.

L'Esperance, O. R. T. The excretion of formaldehyde by the kidneys of patients taking urotropin: A study of Burnham's test, 577.

Lothrop, Howard A. Migration of foreign bodies in tissues, 933.

Lucas, William Palmer. Contributions to the neurology of the child. I. Note on the mortality and the proportion of backward children in cases of congenital syphilis followed subsequent to hospital treatment, 278.

Lund, F. B. Advantages of abdominal hysterectomy, 47; tuberculosis of the mesenteric glands simulating appendicitis, 918.

Lusk, William T. Physiology at the Harvard Medical School, 1871, 931.

Lyon, James A. Specific treatment against pulmonary tuberculosis and its complications. One hundred tubercular patients treated with bacterins and tuberculin, 149.

Marshall, H. W. An adjustable knee support, 659. Scattering notes on arthritic disease, 574.

Mayo, William J. Contributions of the nineteenth century to a living pathology, 751.

McGurn, William J. A new device for the safe and certain administration of salvarsan, 696.

Mellhenny, Paul. Hyperemic treatment of acute anterior poliomyelitis. A preliminary report, 87.

McLaughlin, Allen J. The prevention of water-borne disease in lake and river traffic, 831.

Means, Frank Sherman. The general practitioner: An idealization, 73.

Mears, J. Ewing. A further study of the problem of race betterment, 455.

Medalia, Leon S. Chronic alveolar osteomyelitis (pyorrhea alveolaris), its causes and treatment with vaccines, 868, 922.

Metcalf, Carleton R. Acquired hallux valgus: Late results from operative and non-operative treatment, 271.

Mills, Lloyd H. Mexican scorpions and the treatment of scorpion sting, 183.

Mixter, W. J., and Kinnicutt, Roger. Actinomycosis treated with vaccines, 90; Mixter, S. J., Fitz, R. H., and Walton, George Lincoln, memorials to Maurice Howe Richardson, M.D., 903.

Morse, George W. Three unusual cases of appendicitis, 16.

Murphy, C. V. and Bartlett, P. C. The use of lactic acid, soured milk, and lactic acid bacilli in pulmonary tuberculosis, 311.

Neff, Irwin H. The problem of drunkenness, 911.

Newell, Franklin S. Indications for the major obstetrical operations, 883.

O'Connor, Joseph W. Pyelonephritis of pregnancy and the puerperium, 652.

Oliver, E. Lawrence. From the skin department of the Massachusetts General Hospital. Treatment by salvarsan during the past year, 811.

O'Neil, R. F. Results of the complement fixation test for gonorrhea at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 464.

Osgood, Robert B., Soutter, Robert, Buchloz, Hermann, and Danforth, Murray S. Report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 195.

Otis, Edward O. Artificial pneumothorax in advanced unilateral cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, 612. Institutions for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis as elements in the social defence against the disease, 145.

Palfrey, Francis W., and Ayer, James B. A case of chronic infective endocarditis with ulceration of chordae tendineae, 55.
Parker, David W. Tuberculous mesenteris glands simulating appendicitis, 915.
Paul, Luther G. The operative treatment of spina bifida, with report of a case, 18.
Pitts, Herman C. Suppurations of the Urinary bladder, 9.
Place, Edwin H. The bacteriologic diagnosis, intubation, and antitoxin treatment of diphtheria, 393.
Pomeroy, J. L. Difficulties in interpreting the significance of regional muscle rigidity and degeneration about the thorax: Diagnostic limitations, 720.
Porter, C. A. Surgical treatment of cancer of the uterus, 45.
Post, Abner. Present status of salvarsan, 320.
Ransohoff, Joseph. The operative treatment of gastro-enteroptosis, 347.
Reid, W. D. Pneumonia not a rare complication of heat prostration, 217.
Rushmore, S., and Burrage, W. L. Progress in gynecology, 812.
Shattuck, F. C. Scholarship in medicine, 867.
Simmons, Channing C. Means of determining the end results of operations on hospital patients, 54.
Smith, George G. Two cases of orchitis due to mumps treated by operation, 323.
Smith, O. C. Suppurative lesions of the kidney and ureter, 12.
Smith, William H., and Kinnicutt, Roger. A case of fatal endocarditis, due to a capsulated Gram-staining diplococcus, occurring in chains, 810.
Southard, E. E., and Canavan, Myrtelle M. Second note on bacterial invasion of the blood and the cerebrospinal fluid by way of lymph nodes: Findings in bronchial and retroperitoneal lymph nodes, 109.
Soutter, Robert, Osgood, Robert B., Bucholz, Hermann, and Danforth, Murray S. Report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 195.
Stearns, A. W. The prognosis in dementia precox, 158.
Stoll, Henry Farnham. Tuberculosis in the aged and the diagnostic value of increased whisper in the interscapular space, 291.
Stone, James S. Practical points in the treatment of enlarged cervical glands in children, 537.
Swaim, Loring T. A study of thirty-nine cases as regards the intestinal length and nutrition, 249.
Swift, Milne B. The efficiency of the operative population of a textile city as viewed from a surgical standpoint, 115.
Taylor, E. W. Progress in the treatment of the neuroses, 285. Neurological aspects of injuries to the cranium and spinal column, 675.
Tenney, Elmer S. Blood and stool examinations in a company of Philippine scouts, 4.
Terry, H. On suppurations of the urinary tract. Suppuration of the urethra, prostate and seminal vesicles, 7.
Torbert, James R. A private obstetrical record, 252.
Vincent, Beth. Blood transfusion: Indications, methods and results, 239.
Wagner, Harry S., and Chadwick, Henry D. The significance of symptoms in pulmonary tuberculosis, 397.
Walton, G. L. Arteriosclerosis probably not an important factor in the etiology and prognosis of involution psychoses, 834; Walton, G. L., Fitz, R. H., and Mixter, S. J., memorials to Maurice Howe Richardson, M.D., 903.
Wile, Ira S. Immigration and the midwife problem, 113.
Williams, Tom A. Multiple cramps of psychogenic type in a telegrapher, 194.
Wolbach, S. B. The filterable viruses. A summary, 419.
Wright, George H. The teeth and their relation to the body 799.
Wright Wilhelmine G. Muscle training in the treatment of infantile paralysis, 567.
Young, Ernest Boyen. Three cases of utero-vesico-vaginal fistula, 580.

SUBJECTS.

Abdominal Hysterectomy, advantages of, F. B. Lund, M. D., 47.
Abscess, subphrenic, A. C. Heffenger, M.D., 427.
Acapnia: its surgical importance, J. F. Cotton, A.M., M.D., 432.
Actinomycosis treated with vaccines, Roger Kinnicutt, M.D., W. J. Mixter, M.D., 90.
Acute Anterior Poliomyelitis, hyperemic treatment of: A preliminary report, Paul McIlhenny, M.D., 87.
Addresses. Medicine and humanity: the physician as a promoter of civilization, John C. Berry, M.D., 207; some unsolved problems of gastro-enterology, W. B. Cannon M.D., 181; the clinical study of respiration, David L. Edsall, M.D., 639; contributions of the nineteenth century to a living pathology, William J. Mayo, M.D., 751; the general practitioner; an idealization Frank Sherman Meara, M.D., Ph.D., 73; scholarship in medicine, F. C. Shattuck, M.D., 867.
Adjustable Knee Support, H. W. Marshall, M.D., 659.
Alcohol as a drug, William F. Boos, M.D., Ph.D., 81.
Alimentary Aberrations; the Roentgen rays as a factor in their diagnosis, Percy Brown, M.D., 827, 875.
Alveolar Osteomyelitis, chronic (pyorrhea alveolaris): its causes and treatment with vaccines, Leon S. Medalia, M.D., 868, 922.
Anaphylaxis, another conception of, Wilfred M. Barton, M.D., 51.
Anemia, Pernicious, the gastro-intestinal disturbances observed in, Julius Friedenwald, M.D., 160.
Anomaly of the Hands, an unusual, Harry H. Goodall, M.D., 699.
Appendicitis, three unusual cases of. George W. Morse, M.D., 16; appendicitis, tuberculous mesenteric glands simulating, David W. Parker, M.D., 915.
Arteriosclerosis probably not an important factor in the etiology and prognosis of involution psychoses, G. L. Walton, M.D., 83.
Arthritic Disease, scattering notes on, H. W. Marshall, M.D., 574.
Artificial Pneumothorax, the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis according to the method of Forlanini, Gerardo M. Balboni, 755, 804,844,882,928; in advanced unilateral cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, Edward O. Otis, M.D., 612.
Aural Infections, acute, dangers incurred as a result of the non-recognition of, with statistical data, F. E. Kittredge, M.D., 358.
Bacterial Invasion of the Blood and the cerebro-spinal fluid by way of lymph nodes, E. E. Southard, M.D., and Myrtelle M. Canavan, M.D., 109.
Bacterins; specific treatment against pulmonary tuberculosis, James A. Lyons, M.D., 149.
Bacteriologic Diagnosis; intubation and antitoxin treatment of diphtheria, Edwin H. Place, M.D., 393.
Bladder, suppurations of the urinary, Herman C. Pitts, M.D., 9; two cases of diverticulum of the bladder treated by operation, Arthur L. Chute, M.D., 316; mucous cancer of the bladder, A. L. Chute, M.D., and A. H. Crosbie, M.D., 583.
Blood. Blood and stool examinations in a company of Philippine scouts, Elmer S. Tenney, M.D., 4; second note on bacterial invasion of the blood and the cerebrospinal fluid by way of lymph nodes; findings in bronchial and retroperitoneal lymph nodes, E. E. Southard, M. D., and Myrtelle M. Canavan M.D., 109; A study of the blood in a case of severe hemorrhage, J. Earle Ash, M.D., 808; blood transfusion: indications, methods and results, Beth Vincent, M.D., 239.
Book Reviews, J. George Adami, the principles of pathology, Vol. I, 60, Vol. II, 130; J. George Adami and John McCrae, a text-book of pathology for students in medicine, 589; P. H. Adams, pathology of the eye, 772; I. Adler, primary malignant growths of the lungs and bronchi, 60; Charlotte A. Aikens, the home nurse's handbook of practical nursing, 60; E. F. Bashford, fifth scientific report on the investigations of the imperial cancer research fund, 857; Carl H. Browning and Ivy McKenzie, recent methods in the diagnosis and treatment of syphilis, 204; W. Bruenings, direct laryngoscopy, bronchoscopy, and esophagoscopy, 334; L. Duncan Bulkley, compendium of diseases of the skin, with a therapeutic formulary, 130; W. J. S. Bythell and A. E. Barclay, x-ray diagnosis and treatment, 439; Thomas Spees Carrington, fresh air and how to use it, 516; Sir W. Watson Cheyne and F. F. Burghard, a manual of surgical treatment, Vols. I and II, 130; Archibald Church and Frederick Peterson, nervous and mental diseases, 23; Bayard Clark, essays on genito-urinary subjects, 404; studies in cancer and allied subjects, Vol. II, pathology, 771; J. W. Courtney, the conquest of nerves, 23; John C. DaCosta, Jr., principles and practice of physical diagnosis, 260; L. S. Daugherty and M. C. Daugherty, principles of economic zoology, 738; Roger H. Dennett, the healthy baby, 480; L. N. Denslow, a surgical treatment of locomotor ataxia, 227; Alvah H. Doty, the mosquito; W. L. H. Duckworth, prehistoric man, 130; Shepherd Ivory Franz, handbook on mental examination methods, 165; William Sisson Gardner, a text-book of gynecology, 404; Arthur E. Giles, gynecological nursing, 95; Josephine Goldmark, fatigue and efficiency; a study in industry, 165; Alexander Goodall, aids to histology, 96; Minnie Goodnow, first-year nursing, 480; Robert H. Greene and Harlow Brooks, diseases of the genito-urinary organs and the kidney, 165; E. W. Hey Groves and J. M. Fortescue, text-book for nurses 559; Ramon Guiteras, urology; the diseases of the urinary tract in men and women, 96; A. C. Guthrie, blood vessel surgery and its application, 96; N. Bishop Harman, aids to ophthalmology, 771; J. Hirsechberg, the treatment of shortsight, 260; Walter K. Hunter, recent advances in hematology, 559; various writers, an index of treatment, 481; Alexander James, pleurisy, including empyema and bronchiectatic conditions, 404; Howard A. Kelly, a cyclopedia of American medical biography, 516; M. Klopstock and A.

Kowarsky, a manual of clinical chemistry, microscopy and bacteriology, 660; Arthur H. N. Lewers, a practical text-book of the diseases of women, 934; Jacques Loeb, the mechanistic conception of life, 660; H. Willoughby Lyle, manual of physiology for students and practitioners, 481; James MacKenzie, symptoms and their interpretation, 857; John W. Marchildon, the Wassermann reaction, 889; J. E. R. McDonagh, salvarsan in syphilis and allied diseases, 402; David McKail, public health, chemistry and bacteriology, 857; Henry Lawrence McKisack, a dictionary of medical diagnosis, 227; memorias de instituto Oswaldo Cruz, Vol. III, No. 2, 516; S. Weir Mitchell, some recently discovered letters of William Harvey, with other miscellanea, 439; the surgical clinics of John B. Murphy, Vol. I, 334; William Murrell, what to do in cases of poisoning, 165; Prof. Friedrick PeisLeusden, surgical operations; a hand-book for students and practitioners, 130; Francis W. Peabody, George Draper and A. R. Dochez, a clinical study of acute poliomyelitis, 204; H. P. Picknell, stomatology in general practice, 403; Major C. E. Pollock and Major L. W. Harrison, gonococcal infections, 737; William Allen Pusey, the care of the skin and hair, 402; American authors, a manual of personal hygiene, 439; L. Bathe Rawling, landmarks and surface markings of the human body, 660; report of the Commissioners of Education for the year ending June 30, 1911, Vol. I, 772; Stewart R. Roberts, pellagra; history, distribution, diagnosis, prognosis, treatment, eitology, 738; Albert Robin, common practical therapeutics, Vol. III, 403; Victor Robinson, an essay on Hasheesh, including observations and experiments, 204; Paul Roemer text-book of ophthalmology, 227; Roentgen literature, Part II, 334; William G. Hewitt, St. Luke's Hospital medical and surgical report, Vol. III, 772; Sir James Sawyer, insomnia; its causes and treatment, 737; E. A. Schafer, Quain's elements of anatomy, Vol. II, Part I, 439; Jay Frank Schamberg, diseases of the skin and the eruptive fevers, 295; Charles Locke Scudder, tumors of the jaws, 129; Henry C. Sherman, methods of organic analysis, 737; Erwin F. Smith, Nellie A. Brown and Lucia McCulloch, the structure and development of crown gall; a plant cancer, 403; State Board of Health publications, infantile paralysis in Massachusetts during 1910, 480; Percy Goldthwait Stiles, institutional physiology, 439; George Frederic Still, Oxford medical publications, common disorders and diseases of childhood, 404; studies from the department of pathology of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, 1912, 559; studies from the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, Vol. XIV, 403; studies from the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, reprints, Vol. XV, 589; Alonzo E. Taylor, digestion and metabolism, 481; E. W. Taylor, case histories in neurology, 260; St. Clair Thomson, diseases of the nose and throat, comprising affections of the trachea and esophagus, 295; Alexis Thomson and Alexander Miles, manual of surgery, 738; E. Quinn Thornton, a pocket formulary, 334; transactions of the thirty-third annual meeting of the American Laryngological Association, 227; transactions of the seventeenth annual meeting of the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society, 260; United States Naval medical bulletin, Vol. 6, No. 3, 738; Victor Vecki, sexual impotence, 772; J. Sim Wallace, the prevention of dental caries, 403; James J. Walsh, old time makers of medicine, 772; Albert Westlake, baby's teeth to the twelfth year, 403; C. Hamilton Whiteford, an operation theatre in private practice, 402; the medical visiting list or physicians' diary for 1913, 934.

Bowditch, the Late Henry Ingersoll, M.D. Memorabilia: extracts from medical notes made by Vincent Y. Bowditch, M.D., 603.

Brain, the surgical treatment of head injuries affecting the, John Homans, M.D., 684.

Breast, remote metastases following cancer of, J. C. Hubbard, M.D., 1.

Burnam's Test, a study of, O. R. T. L'Esperance, M.D., 577.

Cancer. Mucous cancer of the bladder, A. L. Chute, M.D., and A. H. Crosbie, M.D., 583; surgical treatment of cancer of the uterus, C. A. Porter, M.D., 45; remote metastases following cancer of the breast, J. C. Hubbard, M.D., 1; hopeful aspects of cancer of the uterus, W. P. Graves, M.D., 48.

Catarrhs of the Large and Small Intestines, the importance of differentiating, A. E. Austin, M.D., 188.

Cervical Glands, practical points in the treatment of enlarged, in children, James S. Stone, M.D., 537.

Coccyodynia, a contribution to the study of, Charles Greene Cumston, M.D., 461.

Complement Fixation Test for Gonorrhea at the Massachusetts General Hospital, R. F. O'Neil, M.D., 464.

Contributions of the Nineteenth Century to a living pathology, William J. Mayo, M.D., 751.

Correspondence. A correction, G. A. B., 108; tuberculous infection in childhood, Walter C. Bailey, M.D., 901; officers of tenth International Otological Congress, Clarence J. Blake, 346; Earl Percy and the Smithsonian Institution, G. A. Blumer, M.D., 70; antivivisection and character, Stephen Coleridge, 71; the first transfusion, William Pearce Coues, M.D., 942; idiosyncrasy to egg albumin, William Pearce Coues, M.D., 216; Fracastor and contagion, Charles G. Cumston, M.D., 942; clinical complications in the far North, H. P. Greeley, 453; a phenomenon of artificial respiration, Robert M. Green, 453; hemorrhage in the new-born, Wm. O. Hunt, 713; the experimental method in the course in pathology, Howard T. Karsner, 72; an obstetric prodigy, Philip Coombs Knapp, 638; a tour of study for physicians, Richard Kovacs, M.D., 902; precautionary x-ray examinations of the chest, John H. McCollum, 566; superstitions and mistakes in infant feeding, John Lovett Morse, 452; the origin of life, James J. Putnam, 713; letter from Paris, on the peristaltic hormon, "S," 35; fatality from peristaltic hormon, "S.," 72; George Faulkner of Jamaica Plain, W. T. Sedgwick, 637; mechanics of pertussis, Edmund D. Spear, M.D., 901; an old retainer of the right sort, J. Collins Warren, 418; vaccines in typhoid fever, N. H. Watters, 382; the self-defense of an anti-vivisectionist, Caroline Earle White, 142.

Cranium and Spinal Column. Traumatisms of; neurological aspects of injuries to the cranium and spinal column, E. W. Taylor, M.D., 675; the surgical treatment of head injuries affecting the brain, John Homans, M.D., 684; the surgical treatment of injuries of the spinal column affecting the cord, John T. Bottomley, M.D., 691.

Dementia Precox, the prognosis in, A. W. Stearns, M.D., 158.

Dentistry, institutional methods; results, Frederick A. Keyes, D.M.D., 118.

Dermatology, progress in, John T. Bowen, M.D., 325.

Diaphragm, traumatic rupture of, with other injuries; operation; recovery, F. J. Cotton, A.M., M.D., 193.

Digestion, Gastric, our present knowledge of the physiology and chemistry of, as applied to vomiting in infancy, Alexander C. Eastman, M.D., 215.

Diphtheria, the bacteriologic diagnosis, intubation and antitoxin treatment of, Edwin H. Place, M.D., 393.

Diverticulum of the Bladder, two cases of, treated by operation, Arthur L. Chute, M.D., 316.

Doctor who volunteers for military service in time of war, Charles C. Foster, M.D., 216.

Drunkenness, the problem of, Irvin H. Neff, M.D., 911.

Editorials. The death of Edward Longshanks, 24; the suppression of tuberculosis, 25; four old obstetric text-books, 25; the phenomena of declining birth-rates, 26; the bi-centennial of Trinity College Medical School, University of Dublin, 61; reduction of infant mortality in New York, 62; eugenics and immigration, 63; doctors and hot weather, 63; progress of the plague in Porto Rico, 97; the British national insurance act, 98; preventive medicine at Ancon, 99; sanitation in the tropics, 101; Independence day and preventable trauma, 101; American supremacy at the Olympic games 102; antivivisection and the methods of medical science in animal experimentation, 131; extension course in neurology and psychiatry, 132; obstetric medical education and the problem of the midwife, 133; the autumnal disease, 134; drug habits and the medical profession, 166; work of the New York Health Department, 167; the university and the public, 169; a compensated affliction, 169; dinner to Dr. Shattuck, 170; sudden death of Dr. Richardson, 170; the transient and the permanent in medicine, 205; the Ninth International Otological Congress, 206; the farmer and the milk can, 207; finis coronat opus, 207; co-operation in the treatment of tuberculosis, 228· Pepys and the Royal Society, 229; decrease of mortality from mining accidents, 230; immigration as a factor in the increase of insanity, 261; the Ninth International Otological Congress, 262; vital statistics of Glasgow and Boston, 296; the antelope and trypanosomiasis, 297; the "Success" and the "Constitution," 298; the problem of medical relief for immigrants, 298; medical colleges and public health, 299; the Swiss National Anti-Cancer Association, 299; the status of medical education in America, 335; the conservation of vision, 336; meetings of three scientific societies, 337; opening of the public schools, 338; a German critic of American medical methods, 371; the ancient history of medicine, 372; the nature, origin and maintenance of life, 374; Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and demography, 405; United States Public Health Service, 407; the milk-can question, 408; three important medical congresses, 440; Burton and eugenics, 442; report of the Massachusetts State Board of Insanity, 443; experiments in sheep-breeding, 444; a recent immigration decision, 445; leprosy in the United States, 445; topics of hygiene and demography, 482; three important medical congresses, 483; ten-cent milk, 484; infantile paralysis and biting flies, 484; exhibit on the hygiene of occupations, 517; conservation and evolution, 518; medicine and electricity, 519; the study of pellagra, 520; fresh eggs, 520; visit of the German physicians, 521; two opinions of cancer, 521; treatment of delirium tremens, 522; precautionary x-ray examinations, 560; the problem of the midwife, 561; the sixty-sixth anniversary of ether day, 561; the anemic habit, 590; the prevention of occupational diseases, 591; the control of tuberculosis, 591; pathology of the royal Egyptian mummies, 624; the menace of the mentally defective, 625; the value of fresh air, 626; post-mortem examinations, 626;

Sushruta and the surgery of the ancient Hindus, 661; the transmission of poliomyelitis, 662; the war in the near East, 663; clinical congress of surgeons of North America, 663; relations of hospital and medical school, 702; the Red Cross in the Balkan war, 703; the the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, 739; the histologic mechanical lesion of pertussis, 740; pestilence as a factor in the Balkan war, 740; inoculation against plague and cholera in India, 741; open street-cars in winter, 741; the mid-winter meeting of the Aesculapian club, 741; the centennial of medical journalism in New England, 773; school dentistry, 774; tuberculosis and the schools, 775; the automobile knee, 816; progress of the Balkan war, 817; danger in breweries from methyl alcohol, 858; progress of the Balkan War, 858; new data on lead poisoning, 859; an act of justice to the medical profession, 859; tuberculosis in children, 890; the Boston Dispensary, 890; a new aspect of nature, 891; the Robert Bent Brigham Hospital, 892; syphilis, 935; the new is the forgotten, 935.

Endocarditis, A case of chronic infective, with ulceration of chordae tendineae, Francis W. Palfrey, M.D., and James B. Ayer, M.D., 55; a case of fatal endocarditis, due to a capsulated Gram-staining diplococcus, occurring in chains, William H. Smith, M.D., and Roger Kinnicutt, M.D., 810.

Enlarged Cervical Glands, practical points in the treatment of, in children, James S. Stone, M.D., 537.

Epilepsy, remarks upon some recent studies in the pathogenesis of, L. Pierce Clark, M.D., 78.

Ether, Under, Henry Turner Bailey, 762.

Eugenics, a further study of the problem of race betterment, J. Ewing Mears, M.D., 455.

Fat, the surgical aspects of, J. M. T. Finney, M.D., 495.

Febrile Attacks, recurrent, in chronic pulmonary tuberculosis, Carroll E. Edson, A.M., M.D., 151.

Feeble-Minded, the insanity of the, William N. Bullard, M.D, 873.

Filterable Viruses, a summary, S. B. Wolbach, M.D., 419.

Fistula, three cases of utero-vesico-vaginal, Ernest Boyen Young, M.D., 580.

Foreign Bodies in tissues, migration of, Howard A. Lothrop A.M., M.D., 933.

Gastric Digestion. Our present knowledge of the physiology and chemistry of, as applied to vomiting in infancy, A. C. Eastman, M.D., 215; gastro-enterology, some unsolved problems of, W. B. Cannon, M.D., 181; the operative treatment of, Dr. Joseph Ransohoff, F.R.C.S., 347.

Gastro-Intestinal Disturbances observed in pernicious anemia, Julius Friedenwald, M.D., 160.

General Practitioner, the, an idealization, Frank Sherman Meara, M.D., 73.

Gonorrhea, results of the complement fixation test for, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, R. F. O'Neil, M.D., 464.

Gynecology, progress in, W. L. Burrage, M.D., and S. Rushmore, M.D., 854.

Hallux Valgus, acquired; late results from operative treatment, Carleton R. Metcalf, M.D., 271.

Heat Prostration, pneumonia not a rare complication of, W. D. Reid, M.D., 217.

Hemianopsia, a case of, due to vascular disease, H. P. Greeley, M.D., 512.

Hemorrhage, severe, a study of the blood in a case of, J. Earle Ash, M.D., 808.

Heredity: with special references to the law of Gregor Johann Mendel, O.S.A., John M. Connolly, Ph.D., M.D., LL.D., 791, 836.

Hip Joint Disease, intra-rectal rupture of suppurating sinus from, Ralph W. Jackson, M.D., 242.

Hyperemic Treatment of acute anterior poliomyelitis. Paul McIlhenny, M.D., 87.

Hysterectomy, abdominal advantages of, F. B. Lund, M.D., 47.

Immigration and the mid-wife problem Ira S. Wile, M.S., M.D., 113.

Infancy, vomiting in, our present knowledge of physiology and chemistry of gastric digestion as applied to. Alexander C. Eastman, M.D., 215.

Infantile Paralysis, muscle training in the treatment of, Wilhelmine G. Wright, 567; see poliomyelitis.

Insane Hospital, the argument for the large state, Walter Channing, M.D., 156.

Insanity of the Feeble-Minded, William N. Bullard, M.D., 873.

Institutions for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis as elements in the social defense against the disease, Edward O. Otis, M.D., 145.

Institutional Dentistry; methods; results, Frederick A. Keyes, D.M.D., 118.

Intestinal Adhesion and Ptosis, medical aspect of, James Marsh Jackson, M.D., 353.

Intestinal Length and Nutrition, a study of thirty-nine cases as regards the, Loring T. Swaim, M.D., 249.

Intestine, the importance of differentiating catarrhs of the large and small, A. E. Austin, M.D., 188.

Intra-Rectal Rupture of suppurating sinus from hip joint disease, Ralph W. Jackson, M.D., 242.

Invagination, Chronic, of the ileum, secondary to a lipoma of the intestinal wall, Harry W. Goodall, M.D., 548.

Inversion of the Uterus, Acute, treatment of, Robert L. De Normandie, M.D., 255.

Kidney. Congenital pelvic, Benjamin Brabson Cates, M.D., 853; suppurative lesions of the kidney and ureter, O. C. Smith, M.D., 12.

Knee Support, adjustable, H. W. Marshall, M.D., 659.

Laboratory Course in Physiology based on daphnia and other animalcules, George V. N. Dearborn, M.D., Ph.D., 153.

Lactic Acid soured milk and lactic acid bacilli, the use of in pulmonary tuberculosis, P. C. Bartlett, M.D., and C. V. Murphy, M.D., 311.

Laryngology, progress in. A. Coolidge, M.D., and D. C. Greene, M.D., 219.

Lesions, Suppurative, of the kidney and ureter, O. C. Smith, M.D., 12.

Massachusetts Reformatory method of differentiating defective delinquents, Guy G. Fernald, A.M., M.D., 120.

Means of Determining the end results of operations on hospital patients, Channing C. Simmons, M.D., 54.

Medical Aspect of intestinal adhesion and ptosis, James Marsh Jackson, M.D., 353.

Medicine and Humanity; the physician as a promoter of civilization, John C. Berry, M.D., 207.

Memorabilia: extracts from medical notes made by the late Henry Ingersoll Bowditch, M.D., of Boston, Vincent Y. Bowditch, M.D., 603.

Memorial. Memorials to Maurice Howe Richardson, M.D., by R. H. Fitz, M.D., S. J. Mixter, M.D., and George Lincoln Walton, M.D., 903.

Mendel, Gregor Johann, law of; heredity, with special references to, John M. Connolly, Ph.D., M.D., LL.D., 791, 836.

Midwifery. The regulation of, James Lincoln Huntington, M.D., 84; midwives in Massachusetts, James L. Huntington, M.D., 542; immigration and the mid-wife problem, Ira S. Wile, M.S., M.D., 113.

Milk, the effect of the pasteurization of, on babies, John Lovett Morse, A.M., M.D., 510.

Miscellany. Birthday honors for British physicians, 34; use of drugs by children, 141; centenarians and suicide, 142; anniversary of the Royal Society, 179; First International Eugenics Congress, 180; history of medicine in Japan, 233; birth of quadruplets, 234; James Skillen, 270; dental supervision of school children, 309; ancient treatment of the gout, 309; primitive dentistry, 310; desirability of universal necropsies, 344; doctors as detectives, 345; Maurice Howe Richardson, 345; total number of existing vertebrate animal species, 382; a roll of honor, 417; euthenics, a new science, 417; open-air schools for the tuberculous, 453; imagination in science, 454; addition to Cambridge hospital, 492; porcelain domestic filters, 493; resolutions on death of Dr. Maurice H. Richardson, 494; an ancient Greek medical manuscript from Oxyrynchus, 529; a motor hospital, 600; French vital statistics, 601; resolutions on the death of Dr. F. W. Brett, 691; multiple intestinal parasitic infection, 635; a French hospital ship, 636; treatment of rabies in Prussia, 636; the production of artificial cells, 636; some experimental observations upon monkeys concerning the transmission of poliomyelitis through the agency of stomoxys calcitrans, 672; resolutions on the death of Dr. Cabot, 749; color-blindness at sea, 787; an early description of pellagra, 788; an artificial respiration apparatus, 789; the sanitation of the Philippines, 789; resolutions on the death of Dr. Elizabeth C. Keller, 901.

Monsters, theories as to the causation of. Charles J. Kickham, M.D., 5.

Multiple Cramps of psychogenic type in a telegrapher, Tom A. Williams, M.R., C.M., 194.

Muscle Rigidity, difficulties in interpreting the significance of regional, and degeneration about the thorax: diagnostic limitations, J. L. Pomeroy, M.D., 720.

Muscle Training in the treatment of infantile paralysis, Wilhelmine G. Wright, 567.

Neurological Aspects of injuries to the cranium and spinal column, E. W. Taylor, M.D., 675.

Neurology, recent progress in, Philip Coombs Knapp, A.M., M.D., 614.

Neurology of the Child, contributions to the; II, note on the mortality and the proportion of backward children in cases of congenital syphilis followed subsequent to hospital treatment, William Palmer Lucas, M.D., 278.

Neuroses, progress in the treatment of, E. W. Taylor, M.D., 285.

New Instrument, a new device for the safe and certain administration of salvarsan, W. J. McGurn, M.D., 696.

Norway Revisited, Cecil Kent Austin, M.D., 502.

Nutrition, Intestinal length and a study of thirty-nine cases. Loring T. Swain, M.D., 249.

Obituaries. Arthur Tracy Cabot, M.D., 784; Sidney Howard Carney, M.D., 671; Clinton Thomas Dent, 416; Robert Fletcher, M.D., 787; Joseph Hasbrouck, M.D., 528; Jesse Burdette Hyland, M.D., 141; Nathan Mayer, M.D., 108; T. B. McClintic, M.D., 269; James Edward Newcomb, M.D., 344; Robert Maitland O'Reilly, M.D., 748; Charles Thorndike Parker, M.D., 864; Isaac Hull Platt, M.D., 309; Maurice Howe Richardson, M.D., 269; Sir William Japp Sinclair, M.D., M.R.C.P., 491; Leonard Worcester Williams, Ph.D., 492; Albert Wood, M.D., 492.

Obstetrics. Pyelonephritis of pregnancy and the puerperium, Joseph O'Connor, M.D., 652; a private obstetrical record, James R. Torbert, M.D., 252; indications for the major obstetrical operations, Franklin S. Newell, M.D., 383; treatment of acute inversion of the uterus, R. L. DeNormandie, M.D., 255.

Operations on Hospital Patients, means of determining the end results of, Channing C. Simmons, M.D., 54.
Ophthalmology, recent progress in, E. W. Clap, M.D., 764.
Orchitis, two cases of, due to mumps treated by operation, George G. Smith, M.D., 323.
Orthopedic Surgery, report of progress in, Robert B. Osgood, M.D., Robert Soutter, M.D., Hermann Bucholz, M.D., Murray S. Danforth, M.D., 195.
Otitis Media, suppurative, the importance of the early recognition of, Philip Hammond, M.D., 725.
Pasteurization of Milk, its effect on babies, John Lovett Morse, M.D., 510.
Pathology. Contributions of the nineteenth century to a living pathology, William J. Mayo, M.D., 751; the function of the experimental method in the course in pathology, Howard T. Karsner, M.D., 531.
Pediatrics. Pasteurization of milk, its effect on babies, John Lovett Morse, M.D., 510; note on the mortality and the proportion of backward children in cases of congenital syphilis followed subsequent to hospital treatment, William Palmer Lucas, M.D., 278; our present knowledge of the physiology and chemistry of gastric digestion as applied to vomiting in infancy, A. C. Eastman, M.D., 215.
Pellagra. In Rhode Island, Arthur H. Harrington, M.D., 731; three cases of pellagra, C. H. Dean, M.D., 91; a case of pellagra that had not been outside of New England for eighteen years, Roger I. Lee, M.D., 435.
Pelvic Kidney, congenital, Benjamin Brabson Cates, M.D., 853.
Pernicious Anemia, the gastro-intestinal disturbances observed in, Julius Friedenwald, M.D., 160.
Physiology, a laboratory course in, based on daphnia and other animalcules, George V. N. Dearborn, M.D., Ph.D., 153; at the Harvard Medical School, William Thompson Lusk, 931.
Pneumonia not a rare complication of heat prostration, W. D. Reid, M.D., 217.
Pneumothorax. See artificial pneumothorax.
Poliomyelitis, acute anterior, hyperemic treatment of, Paul McIlhenny, M.D., 87. See infantile paralysis.
Progress. Progress in dermatology, John T. Bowen, M.D., 325; in gynecology, W. L. Burrage, M.D., and S. Rushmore, M.D., 812, 854; recent progress in laryngology, A. Coolidge, M.D., and D. C. Greene, M.D., 219; in neurology, Philip Coombs Knapp, A.M., M.D., 614; in obstetrics, treatment of acute inversion of the uterus, Robert L. DeNormandie, M.D., 255; in ophthalmology, E. W. Clap, M. D., 764.
Progress in the treatment of the neuroses, E. W. Taylor, M.D., 285.
Prostatic Obstruction, some observations on cases of, presenting overdistended bladders, Arthur L. Chute, M.D., 607.
Psychoses, Involution, arteriosclerosis not an important factor in etiology and prognosis of, G. L. Walton, M.D., 834.
Pulmonary Tuberculosis, see tuberculosis.
Pyelonephritis of pregnancy and the puerperium, Joseph W. O'Connor, M.D., 652.
Pyelonephrotic Kidneys, two cases of injury of the vena cava during the removal of, Arthur Cabot, M.D., 578.
Race Betterment, a further study of the problem of, J. Ewing Mears, M.D., 455.
Recent Studies in the pathogenesis of epilepsy, L. Pierce Clark, M.D., 78.
Respiration, the clinical study of, David L. Edsall, M.D., 639. Richardson, Maurice Howe, M.D.; memorials to R. H. Fitz, M.D.; S. J. Mixter, M.D.; and George Lincoln Walton, M.D., 903.
Roentgen Rays, a factor in the diagnosis of alimentary aberrations, Percy Brown, M.D., 827.
Routine Medical Work in a sanatorium, Lawrason Brown, M.D., and Harry Lee Barnes, M.D., and Victor F. Cullen, M.D., 613.
Salvarsan. Present status of, Abner Post, M.D., 320; from the skin department of the Massachusetts General Hospital, treatment by salvarsan during the past year, E. Lawrence Oliver, M.D., 811; a new device for the safe and certain administration of salvarsan, William J. McGurn, M.D., 696; salvarsan-calomel treatment of syphilis, William F. Boos, 389.
Scholarship in medicine, F. C. Shattuck, M.D., 867.
Scorpions, Mexican, and the treatment of scorpion sting, Lloyd H. Mills, M.D., 183.
Shattuck Lecture, the clinical study of respiration, David L. Edsall, M.D., 639.
Society Reports. The American Dermatological Association, 513, 551; American Gynecological Society, 618, 734, 767; thirty-fourth annual meeting of the American Laryngological Association, 400, 437, 470; American Therapeutic Society, 198; New England Branch of the American Urological Association, 19; American Urological Association, 585; Association of American Physicians, 293, 328, 364; Connecticut State Medical Society, 121; The Massachusetts Medical Society, 555; Medical Society of the State of New York, 56, 92; the New England Pediatric Society meeting, Jan. 27, 1912, 162; the New England Pediatric Society Meeting, March 30, 1912, 224; the New England Pediatric Society, May 11, 1912, 554.
Spina Bifida, the operative treatment of, with report of a case, Luther G. Paul, M.D., 18.
Spinal Column. Traumatisms of the cranium and neurological aspects of injuries to the cranium and spinal column, E. W. Taylor, M.D., 675; the surgical treatment of head injuries affecting the brain, John Homans, M.D., 684; the surgical treatment of injuries of the spinal column affecting the cord, John T. Bottomley, M.D., 691.
Subphrenic Abscess, A. C. Heffenger, M.D., 427.
Suppurations of the Urethra, prostate and seminal vesicles, H. Terry, M.D., 7
Suppurative Otitis Media, the importance of the early recognition of Philip Hammond, M.D., 725.
Suppurative Lesions of the kidney and ureter, O. C. Smith, M.D., 12.
Surgery. The efficiency of the operative population of a textile city as viewed from a surgical standpoint, Milne B. Swift, M.D., 115; surgical treatment of cancer of the uterus, C. A. Porter, M.D., 45; means of determining the end results of operations on hospital patients, Channing C. Simmons, M.D., 54; surgical treatment of head injuries affecting the brain, John Homans, M.D., 684; surgical treatment of injuries of the spinal column affecting the cord, 691; surgical aspects of fat, J. M. T. Finney, M.D., 495.
Syphilis. The salvarsan-calomel treatment of, William F. Boos, 389; the story of its treatment, old and new, Andrew F. Downing, M.D., 715; congenital, note on the mortality and proportion of backward children in cases of, William Palmer Lucas, M.D., 278.
Teeth and their relation to the body, by George H. Wright, D.M.D., 799.
Transfusion, Blood, indications, methods and results, Beth Vincent, M.D., 239.
Traumatic Rupture of the diaphragm with other injuries, F. J. Cotton, M.D., 193.
Traumatisms of the Cranium and Spinal Column. Neurological aspects of injuries to the cranium and spinal column, E. W. Taylor, M.D., 675; the surgical treatment of head injuries affecting the brain, John Homans, M.D., 684; the surgical treatment of injuries of the spinal column affecting the cord, John T. Bottomley, M.D., 691.
Tuberculin: specific treatment against pulmonary tuberculosis, James A. Lyon, M.D., 149.
Tuberculosis. Institutions for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis as elements in the social defense against the disease, Edward O. Otis, M.D., 145; on some recurrent febrile attacks in chronic pulmonary tuberculosis, Carroll E. Edson, A.M., M.D., 151; specific treatment against pulmonary tuberculosis and its complications, one hundred tubercular patients treated with bacterins and tuberculin, James A. Lyon, M.D., 149; the use of lactic acid soured milk and lactic acid bacilli in pulmonary tuberculosis, P. C. Bartlett, M.D., and C. V. Murphy, M.D., 311; tuberculosis in the aged and the diagnostic value of increased whisper in the interscapular space, Henry Farnham Stoll, M.D., 291; the significance of symptoms in pulmonary tuberculosis, Henry D. Chadwick, M.D., and Harry S. Wagner, M.D., 397; the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis by artificial pneumothorax, according to the method of Forlanini, Gerardo M. Balboni, M.D., 755,804,844; 882, 928; survey of the tuberculosis situation in Massachusetts, John B. Hawes, 2d, M.D., 728; artificial pneumothorax in advanced unilateral cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, Edward O. Otis, M.D., 612; tuberculosis of the mesenteric glands simulating appendicitis, F. B. Lund, M.D., 918.
Ureter, suppurative lesions of kidney and, O. C. Smith, M.D., 12.
Urinary Tract, on suppuration of the urethra, prostate and seminal vesicles, H. Terry, M.D., 7.
Urotropin, the excretion of formaldehyde by the kidneys of patients taking; a study of Burnam's test, O. R. T. L'Esperance, M.D., 577.
Utero-Vesico-Vaginal Fistula, three cases of, Ernest Boyen Young, M.D., 580.
Uterus. Inversion of, Hilbert F. Day, Ph.B., M.D., 361; surgical treatment of cancer of the uterus, C. A. Porter, M. D., 45; hopeful aspects of cancer of the uterus, W. P. Graves, M.D., 48; treatment of acute inversion of, R. L. De Normandie, M.D., 255.
Vaccines, actinomycosis treated with, Roger Kinnicutt, M.D., and W. J. Mixter, M.D., 90; chronic alveolar osteomyelitis (pyorrhea alveolaris): its causes and treatment with, Leon S. Medalia, M.D., 868, 922.
Vena Cava, two cases of injury of the, during the removal of pyelonephrotic kidneys, Arthur T. Cabot, M.D., 578.
Viruses, Filterable: a summary, S. B. Wolbach, M.D., 419.
Vomiting in Infancy, our present knowledge of the physiology and chemistry of gastric digestion, Alexander C. Eastman, M.D., 215.
Water-Borne Disease, the prevention of, in lake and river, Allen J. McLaughlin, M.D., 831.